

NEW TAXES GO INTO EFFECT IN CANADA TODAY

By the Canadian Press
 Canadians today found most of the new and increased taxes in the huge Dominion budget brought down at Ottawa yesterday already in effect.

The new three-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax goes into effect today and so does the increase from 20 to 25 per cent in the tax on new, used passenger automobiles valued by manufacturers at under $800.

Also in operation are the increased taxes on wines, long distance telephone calls, cigarette lighters and tubes, and on motor, railway, bus and airplane tickets.

Government officials explained that since the tax collections are made upon the manufacturers, the price of articles affected by the new duties may not go up until retailers' present stocks are exhausted. However, in other cases, price boosts to the customers will be immediate because of long-term arrangements between retailer and producer.

Increased personal income tax levies affect all 1941 income. Income tax is increased on gifts, income payment to non-residents at Canada and royalties, rentals or similar payments to such non-residents which are made from the estate.

Change made in 22 items on the tariff schedule will be effective today and so will the removal of the sales tax exemption from building materials.

The National Defence Tax increases are effective July 1, while the new succession duties will be collected until an act of parliament making them law has been given.

Licensing of new building or extension of industrial use, and machinery installation was made effective the moment Finance Minister today made the announcement.

The sugar excise tax increases from one to two cents a pound has been in operation for some weeks.

Officials said last night that companies operating on the calendar year last four months to estimate and pay their excess profits tax, and this accounted for the provision that their 1940 taxation figures had to be on hand tomorrow.

Taxation under the new rules will apply to their later income.

More Planes For Defence Sought By U.S. President

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP) President Roosevelt announced today he is requesting a survey of United States civil aviation facilities to see how many planes could be bought for the defence of the country.

At the same time the president told a press conference that American naval vessels could enter combat zones if necessary in the interest of defence of the western hemisphere.

CHILDREN ARE SAVED AS FIRE NEARS SCHOOL

 Fires still were small but were to dry, yellow-brown and white. Fire north of town is raging on 15 to 20 mile front and is moving steadily south and west.

On Tuesday afternoon Constable McMullen, R.C.M.P., and a party of searchers led by James Chalmers found the charred body of Thomas Schaffly, 33, who was burned to death Sunday in a fire near the O.J.S. sawmill 35 miles north of town. Chalmers was trying to lead searchers to safety when the fire jumped between them and cut off the old man.

Coroner Dr. A. C. Greenaway decided the insurance was necessary and a funeral will be held at Leducville on Friday.

Forestry Superintendent J. R. Hall, who came in Wednesday morning from the north fire, reported that Lawson Brothers' mill has not been burned and that a big stand of 250,000 ft. of good standing timber is now out of danger. Fire swept to the south side of this block but fighters, under direction of mill owner Jones, have kept it out of the timber.

Besides Supt. Hall, Timber Inspector Eric Whidden and Fire

Rangers Matthew Ramage and Landin have been out day and night since fire started. Twenty men went out to Morrison's mill near Pisco, 10 miles north, on Tuesday.

Constable McMullen has been on the scene of the north fire for three days and nights without leaving. Lawson Brothers, across the North Saskatchewan river, are working day and night to load their saved lumber, mill machinery and camp equipment 25 miles into town as the fire from Morrison's mill is moving towards their location. In places the timber has been a mile through the fire, with trees burning on both sides of the trail.

Fighters from Brerley's, following the fire, hoping to save some timber, but there is no hope of stopping it in the future. Fire has reached the Bagpipe river and jumped into Sandstone flats, where Indians held their sun dances for years. There is a great stand of timber on the flats.

Atlas Lumber Company put a crew on guard in their mill across the North Saskatchewan river from Brerley's, as the fire from the destroyed McHugh's mill was sweeping towards them.

Wednesday morning another crew forced the river with a portable tractor and they are busy moving all the machinery from the Atlas mill to a sawdust in the middle of the river, where they will leave it until the rain come.

LEAVE SAVED LUMBER
 The machinery at this mill is valuable but most of the saved lumber was hauled out across the river during the winter and officials say they can only leave the rest. About May 1, hope the fire will miss it. There is no summer truck road within 15 miles.

In the Cow Creek district the fire has swept 15 miles from where it started to the North Saskatchewan river. The slightest rise in the wind will make it jump the river and a thickly settled farming community. Only a miracle saved Smith Brothers' mill at Cow Creek as the fire burned all around it.

Partners have been plowing wide fire guards but in some places the fire jumped as much as half a mile. In C. Plowden's house, two miles north of town, was burned to the ground Tuesday. On Saturday it was missed by a few feet. Fire fighters fought the fire out but on Tuesday the flames sprang up again.

DARE NOT LEAVE
 Settlers dare not leave their homes for supplies or mail for fear the house will be burned before they return. They must depend on passers-by.

J. Sarver's log house and barn near Brerley's mill, was burned, while two old shacks of no value in heavy timber nearby were untouched.

Fire swept across a muskeg, through grass which was growing above several feet of water. Many spots in dry muskeg have caught fire and these may burn all summer.

McHugh, who lost his mill this week, also lost his mill near the same location last spring.

Fire-Fighting Crews Increased
 New forest fire fighting through valuable Alberta timberlands have resulted in the establishment of new fire-fighting camps and the enlargement of those already on duty, according to T. F. Blaford, provincial forestry director.

While the flames licked their way along timber stands a hospital sign was found in that rain was falling in the northern section of the province. Rain is the best fire-fighting and hope is held out for further forested areas an extended area.

Mr. Blaford, in reviewing the situation, declared that "in the Rocky Mountain House district the situation is very much the same. The fire is still burning and the crews are fighting them every inch of the way."

The fire at the Diamond Lumber company's berth, said Mr. Blaford, has been brought under control.

140 MEN ENGAGED
 At the Jones fire, west of Rimbey, a large crew of 140 men is heavily engaged. This fire is out of the green line. No cleanup has been called in the efforts of the crew and continued pressure is being applied to bring the fire under control.

A new fire has been reported

Partial Text Of Hisley's Speech On Taxation, Tariff Changes

ence. As they will be in effect for only part of this fiscal year I anticipate an increase of about $5,000,000 in this year's revenue because of these changes in rates.

I am proposing substantial increases in the graduated rates of income tax made up in such a way that in combination with the increase in the national defense tax they will result in a progressively rising rate of increase in relation to the income now left with taxpayers after payment of taxes at existing rates.

NEW GRADUATED RATES

The new graduated rates will commence at 15 per cent on the first $1,000 of net taxable income in place of six or eight per cent at present; and they will be 20 per cent on the next $1,000, 25 per cent on the third $1,000, and so on upwards until they reach 80 per cent on the block of net taxable income of $40,000.

Of course, these rates do not include the national defense tax rate applicable to the same income. It is that included income over the amount of exemption which will be used at rates ranging from 20 per cent at the bottom to 90 per cent at the top. These rates apply both to earned income and investment income.

NEW SURTAX

In addition I am proposing a new surtax of four per cent on actual investment income, with a moderate amount exempted. The present so-called investment income surtax, which is almost entirely a paper rate, on all income over $1,000, is to be absorbed into the new graduated rates, which have been increased additionally to take this into account.

Our present surtax only taxes investment income within the narrow range between $1,000 and $14,000, and at a low rate. The new surtax is to tax all true investment income of more than $1,000, or 40 per cent more than the sum of one's exemption and allowances if there are more than $1,000.

No change is being suggested in the basic exemptions for the graduated income tax, $150 for single persons and $250 for married, plus the allowance for children and dependents of $400 each.

In accordance with the amendment I made in February, it is proposed to reduce from 50 per cent to 10 per cent of income the maximum amount to be allowed as a deduction for gifts to all charitable or public organizations, with a minor exception for the arrangement already made for the national war services fund.

CHANGE DUE DATE

It is proposed to change the date at which the income tax becomes due from April 30 to March 31. At the same time it is proposed to extend the arrangements for payment of the tax by instalments, and to provide that if 1/10th of the Tax, estimated on the basis of the previous year's income, is paid in each of the months September to December, and one-eighth of the balance, re-calculated after the end of the year, is paid in each of the months January to August, then no interest will be chargeable on the instalments after March 31.

Perhaps I should point out that these rates of tax, particularly on what may loosely be termed the middle class, are still substantially less than the rates that have just been introduced by the British government.

INCREASE EXPECTED
The increase in revenues to be expected as a result of the increase in the rates of taxation, income tax and the surtax on investment income should be about $70,000,000 for a full year.

One of the resolutions I am going to move will provide for introduction of a bill establishing a new Dominion expropriation duty. The field of taxation has previously been used by the provinces and not by the Dominion, though they have any exclusive legal rights in it.

Our Government is not averse to something of more permanence than any of the proposed increases in income taxes or indirect taxes. The rates of tax proposed must also be paid in full.

COMPOSITE TYPE

After considerable study I have decided to propose a composite type of tax similar to that used by most of the provinces in this country. The tax will apply to the amount of net income after the deduction of each allowance in the case of each taxpayer.

The rate of tax will be determined mainly by the age of the taxpayer, which the individual receives, but also by the rate of the estate tax, and the rate of the surtax on investment income. In determining the rate, we are laying more emphasis upon the age of the taxpayer, and I think this is fair since it is the best method of judging ability to pay. On the other hand, we are proposing a smaller difference between the rates of tax applicable to children of the deceased and to collateral relatives and to friends than most of the provinces have.

GENEROUS EXEMPTION

We are proposing a fairly generous exemption of $20,000 for property passing to the widow of the deceased, so that if she receives more than that she will pay no tax, and if she receives more than that she pays only on the excess over that amount.

A similar exemption of $10,000 is provided for young children, or children dependent on the deceased by reason of physical or mental incapacity. These children and the widows are also subject to a lower rate of tax than other children or grandchildren.

On other cases, anyone will be subject to tax on the whole amount received if it is over $10,000. Estates of less than $10,000, and amounts received from the estate of a person who has died, are to be cut down somewhat the need for investigating and assessing small estates, on which, in most cases, the tax would be very small anyway.

I might give a few examples to the house of the way in which the tax would be calculated, and the amount it would reach. For example, suppose a man left $50,000, one-half to his widow, one-quarter to a grown-up son. The widow receives $25,000, the son $12,500, and the estate $12,500. The widow would pay a rate of 15 per cent plus 4 per cent, or 19 per cent, on the $25,000 which she receives, $4,625. The son would pay a rate of 15 per cent plus 4 per cent, or 19 per cent, on the $12,500 which he receives, $1,562.50. The estate would pay a rate of 15 per cent plus 4 per cent, or 19 per cent, on the $12,500 which it receives, $1,562.50. That is a tax of about $7,750.

SIMPLE EXAMPLE
To take a simpler example, if an estate of $100,000 were all left to a grown-up son, he would pay on it a rate of 24 per cent, because of the size of the estate, plus six per cent, because he receives $100,000, or 30 per cent, in all. If it were divided among four sons, however, they would each pay a rate of 24 per cent, plus only 3 per cent, or 27 per cent, in all. On the other hand, if they were four brothers of the deceased the rate would be 14 per cent, higher. If four friends, another 14 per cent, higher. The provincial taxes on the brothers or friends would, however, be much higher than on the sons.

This new tax will apply to all the property of those domiciled in Canada at the time of their death, with the exception of real estate in other countries.

Our tax will apply to property in Canada, real and personal, of persons dying domiciled in other countries.

country. The tax will apply not only to property owned by persons at the time of their death, but also to certain other properties passing at the time of death or transferred by the deceased in contemplation of death, or given within three years of his death, and various other specified transfers.

We are providing special increased exemptions for the family of any member of our armed forces who dies or is killed in such circumstances as would enable his widow or dependent children to receive a pension under the pension act, and in addition the amount of tax payable on property passing on his death to widows and infants, but will be reduced by taking into account the value of the property at the time of the tax, assuming it is to be deferred for the normal expectation of life for a person of that age.

ELIMINATE GIFT TAX

In order to cover gifts made more than three years before death we propose to increase the rate of gift tax in accordance with the new schedule set forth in the resolution relating to income tax.

I would guess that in a full year we might expect to get about $20,000,000 out of this tax, but we may get substantially more than this. However, because of the lag that nature has in the assessing and collection of this tax, we cannot expect much revenue from it this fiscal year—perhaps $10,000,000.

In view of the very drastic increases in taxes upon Canadian residents since the outbreak of the war we think it reasonable to increase the tax on non-residents under the Income War Tax Act from five per cent to 15 per cent.

ELIMINATE RESTRICTION

In addition to the change in rate it is also proposed to eliminate the restriction which limits the tax in the case of interest to payments made solely in Canadian funds. In future, the tax will be payable on all interest, other than interest on bonds or guaranteed by the Dominion of Canada irrespective of the currency of payment.

It is estimated that the increase in the rate of this tax, together with the removal of the restriction referred to, will result in a net increase in revenue of $15,000,000 per annum.

Before the house rose for the Easter recess I read a statement respecting a number of amendments which it is proposed to make to the Excess Profits Tax Act.

NO GENERAL RELIEF

The changes proposed are not intended and will not result in any general relief from the weight of the Excess Profits Tax. In fact, as I have already intimated, it is proposed to increase the minimum rate of tax under this act from 12 per cent to 22 per cent. This taken with the 18 per cent levied under the Income War Tax Act will mean a tax of at least 40 per cent upon the income of all corporations.

I will not burden the house by repeating the details of changes which are proposed and which I announced before Easter. But there are several additional points to be mentioned. The first of these relates to the lumber industry.

Because of the expansion of their operations above pre-war levels, their profits have increased and they are subject to tax at the rate of 75 per cent, plus the taxes levied by the provinces.

The margin of profit remaining is very small in relation to the value of the timber limits which are being exhausted at a rapid rate and which cannot be replaced except at much high cost. They are entitled to some relief for these reasons, but it has been difficult to decide how this should be provided.

After the most careful study, we have come to the conclusion that the best way of dealing with the problem, and the most logical, is to permit an additional allowance for depletion on that portion of their production which is in excess of the level prevailing during the standard period.

An amendment will be introduced to exempt from excess profits tax companies whose sole purpose is that of holding investments in securities.

DIFFER SLIGHTLY

In two cases the amendments to be introduced will differ slightly from those indicated before Easter.

The amendment relating to the selection of three years out of four as a standard period if the profits of the fourth are less than half the average of the other three will be amended to provide that this rule shall apply after adjusting profits for capital additions or withdrawals.

Another change relates to inventory reserves and provides that the taxpayer must add any unutilized portion of such reserve existing at the beginning of the second year following the year of termination of the application of the act to his taxpayer.

INDIRECT TAXES
I turn now to indirect taxes. . . . It has already been announced that the tax on sugar is to be increased from one cent to two cents per pound. . . . It is the only tax of that character which I have to propose. . . . I have already intimated that it is proposed to impose a Dominion tax of three cents a gallon on gasoline. Imports of amount it would reach. For example, suppose a man left $50,000, one-half to his widow, one-quarter to a grown-up son. The widow receives $25,000, the son $12,500, and the estate $12,500. The widow would pay a rate of 15 per cent plus 4 per cent, or 19 per cent, on the $25,000 which she receives, $4,625. The son would pay a rate of 15 per cent plus 4 per cent, or 19 per cent, on the $12,500 which he receives, $1,562.50. The estate would pay a rate of 15 per cent plus 4 per cent, or 19 per cent, on the $12,500 which it receives, $1,562.50. That is a tax of about $7,750.

SIMPLE EXAMPLE
To take a simpler example, if an estate of $100,000 were all left to a grown-up son, he would pay on it a rate of 24 per cent, because of the size of the estate, plus six per cent, because he receives $100,000, or 30 per cent, in all. If it were divided among four sons, however, they would each pay a rate of 24 per cent, plus only 3 per cent, or 27 per cent, in all. On the other hand, if they were four brothers of the deceased the rate would be 14 per cent, higher. If four friends, another 14 per cent, higher. The provincial taxes on the brothers or friends would, however, be much higher than on the sons.

DIFFER SLIGHTLY

In two cases the amendments to be introduced will differ slightly from those indicated before Easter.

The amendment relating to the selection of three years out of four as a standard period if the profits of the fourth are less than half the average of the other three will be amended to provide that this rule shall apply after adjusting profits for capital additions or withdrawals.

Another change relates to inventory reserves and provides that the taxpayer must add any unutilized portion of such reserve existing at the beginning of the second year following the year of termination of the application of the act to his taxpayer.

I turn now to indirect taxes. . . . It has already been announced that the tax on sugar is to be increased from one cent to two cents per pound. . . . It is the only tax of that character which I have to propose. . . . I have already intimated that it is proposed to impose a Dominion tax of three cents a gallon on gasoline. Imports of erde oil make a heavy drain on our supplies of foreign exchange. The consumption of gasoline has been increasing rapidly. Its purchase is a drain on the country's increased personal expenditures are flowing.

Partial Text Of Ilsey's Speech On Taxation, Tariff Changes

The imposition of a much higher tax than three cents coupled with a system of refunds to tourists, farmers, fishermen and others was considered. It has been decided, however, to recommend a similar tax and make no provision for refunds.

It is expected that the tax will yield $23,000,000 in the full year and $23,000,000 in the current fiscal year.

INCREASED AUTO RATE
 Related to the gasoline tax is an increased rate on automobiles. The motor vehicle control law imposed on Canadian producers limited production quotas for passenger cars from April 1 last. Imports of complete automobiles are on a 20 per cent quota.

Under these circumstances, since cars available for sale are so limited, it is proposed to increase the basic excise rate on passenger automobiles from 20 per cent to 25 per cent. The higher rate will apply in excess of $80, already 40 and 80 per cent.

REMOVE LIMIT
 There is at present an excise tax on motor buses of five per cent and a maximum limit of $1,500 on the tax. At this time when we are having to grant permits for the importation of a great many buses, it is considered that, though it is not recommended that the rate be changed, the limit on the tax should be removed.

The anticipated revenue from these changes is $3,000,000 in a full year and $2,700,000 in the current fiscal year.

I shall recommend also an excise tax of 40 per cent on railway, steamship, motor bus and airplane fares. Travel between points for which the single fare is less than 50 cents will be exempt.

Otherwise all fares collected in Canada will be subject to tax except that fares on passenger vessels will be taxable only between Canadian ports. I notice that the United States treasury is also recommending a tax on travel and we need anticipate no effect on our tourist trade.

PRODUCE $5,000,000
 This tax is likely to produce about $5,000,000 in the full year and about $4,000,000 in 1941-42.

It is proposed to impose an excise tax on the receipts of motion picture houses on 20 per cent. I expect to derive at least $4,000,000 from this tax in the full year and about $7,300,000 in this fiscal year. I propose that the tax on mail be increased by 20 per cent. From 10 cents a pound to 12 cents and that related rates on beer and mail stamps be increased correspondingly. In respect of wines, the proposal is that the tax be increased from 15 to 40 cents per gallon and that on sparkling wines from $1.50 to $2. These increases should produce, in the full year, $3,500,000 on beer and $1,000,000 on wine or about $2,500,000 and $800,000, respectively, in the current fiscal year.

It is now proposed to increase the tax on carbonic acid gas and "soft drinks" drastically, raising it from five cents to 25 cents a pound. At this rate the tax will still not exceed the proposed United States tax of one cent a unit and should produce an additional $2,000,000 of revenue, of which probably $1,500,000 will be collected in this fiscal year.

TAX ON CARDS
 The excise tax on playing cards is to be raised from 10 to 15 cents a pack.

That on cigarettes and toilet preparations is proposed to increase from 10 per cent to 25 per cent. It is recommended that the tax on long-distance telephone messages be increased from six to 10 per cent.

To offset the much larger tax there is at present a tax of 30 per cent on letters 10 per cent or less in weight is a part of some other article. Since the excise tax on a wide range of mechanical, metal products for household and personal use is 25 per cent, it is proposed to apply the same rate to lighters whether combined with other articles or not.

CIGARETTE TUBES
 For the purpose of protecting the revenue, it is recommended that the tax on cigarette tubes be raised from five to 10 cents a hundred. It appears that the tube in contrast to the paper given rise to some ill-fated commercial manufacture. It is estimated that these changes will produce in the full year $3,500,000, of which $1,500,000 will be collected in 1941-42.

There is one more change in the indirect taxes. Having refrained for nearly two years of action from suggesting any discouragement to building, it has now been decided to recommend the removal of building materials from the list of exemptions under the sales tax.

In the meantime, the provision for home improvement loans has been exhausted, the application of the National Housing Act has been narrowed, and the Wartime Housing Corporation has been set up to provide for the more urgent housing needs.

At a time when we have many extraordinary needs for building construction, it is desirable to encourage, where possible, building operations for the post-war period. The withdrawal of this exemption, which I consider to be temporary, should provide $15,000,000 of revenue of which perhaps $12,500,000 will be collected in this fiscal year.

SUGAR AND GLUCOSE
 I have already mentioned the increase in the tax on sugar from one cent to two cents a pound. A corresponding increase from one-half cent to one cent is recommended for glucose and sugar glucose, reconstituted to the date when the sugar industry increased the price of cane sugar.

It is also recommended that the new rate of two cents a pound apply to corn syrup in a tin of 10 pounds or less. To some slight degree, molasses is competitive with corn syrup but in view of the extensive use of molasses in livestock feeds the tax is not extended to molasses.

WAR EXCHANGE
 There are some changes to be recommended in the War Exchange Conservation Act which I shall summarize. It is proposed to add black tea to part I of schedule I under which the house will receive permits are refused. Adequate supplies of black tea can be obtained for sterling payment. Two other items, games and puzzles, and waxes of all kinds can be obtained to clear up anomalies.

A more important change is recommended in the addition of vegetable oils to part II of schedule I. It is the intention to issue permits for the importation of vegetable oils endeavoring to obtain as much as possible of them for selling as Canadian dollars. No goods are removed from the prohibited classification by the regulations about to be issued, although for technical reasons four items are being struck out of the part I of schedule I and out of the customs tariff.

Very substantial changes are recommended in respect of schedule II of the act, the schedule extending wartime treatment to imports from the United Kingdom. Though a large number of items are affected, I can explain briefly what is recommended.

NO CHANGE
 For the cotton and artificial silk items, now free under the act, no change is recommended. Certain items, on which the United Kingdom has asked for concessions, viz. cellulose, bathroom fixtures, and earthenware glass manufactures (E.P., metal-plated fixtures, and needles are to be made free, it is recommended under schedule II.

It is further recommended that the British preferential rates be subject to a discount of 25 per cent in the case of woolen and worsted yarns, wraps, fabrics, and clothing and boots and shoes, that quilts, quilts and mixed fibres, oldsters and linens, carpets, rugs, and corsets, and all items that are ready-fitted in groups I, V, VI, VII, IX and X and of the customs tariff with the exception already mentioned of boots and shoes be subject to a discount of 50 per cent.

NO MODIFICATION
 No modification of the rates of liquor, sugar, tobacco, and silk is suggested.

The result will be that, aside from the revenue items just mentioned, all imports from the United Kingdom will be free or subject to British preferential rates reduced by 50 or 25 per cent. The discounts are to be in lieu of and not additional to the 10 per cent now applicable for direct shipment.

In the case of woolens, the 25 per cent reduction will apply to the British preferential ad valorem and specific rates of duty but the operation of the limitation of the duty of 80 cents per pound as a maximum will remain unaffected.

These sweeping reductions are made to facilitate movement of goods from the United Kingdom. It is not expected that imports from the United Kingdom will increase significantly. The changes proposed in the customs tariff are of a minor character. The reductions about to be tabled affect 22 items but a very small volume of trade. Seven new items will effect a reduction in the British preferential and intermediate tariffs on film wrapping paper, celluloid, gelatin, kyanite, strings for musical instruments, nickel rods for spark plug electrodes, even thermometers and automatic even lighters for gas stoves, and wire drawing dies in the rough.

SEVEN ADDITIONS
 Seven additions to existing items for reduced rates on carbon bisulphide, machines for fumigating grain, machines and complete parts for making boxes for fruit and vegetables, machinery and apparatus of a class or kind not made in Canada, for measurement and testing purposes in connection with gas and oil wells, infant identification rubber, juvenile construction sets of blocks, cadets will shell oil and upon blank.

In respect of the fairer of rayon, the continuation of a special but higher rate is recommended. Summarizing the revenue results of this largely recital of new and increased taxes, we expect to derive from them during a full year approximately $300,000,000 of additional revenue after making allowance for payments to the provinces under the agreement which I have proposed.

BUDGETARY DEFICIT
 This will leave a budgetary deficit of $300,000,000 or $310,000,000 according as the lower or higher of the estimates of war expenditure is realized.

Under the lower estimate we shall have paid 75 per cent of our war and non-war budgetary expenditures out of revenue, and under the higher we shall have paid 75 per cent. . . .

Regarding the request that the provinces vote the income and corporation tax fields for the duration of the war, Mr. Hepburn said: "The request is not very clear at the present time, so as this is an important time to make a statement."

"One of the first things that strikes me about the budget is that there is an increase in income taxes and national defense tax," he said. "This will create a tremendous hardship on the small salaried man with a family."

He said the new gasoline tax would "hit at the tourist trade."

ONTARIO WILL STUDY ILSLEY TAX PROPOSAL

ST. THOMAS, Ont. April 28.—(C.P.)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario said Thursday night at his home here that the Ontario cabinet will meet in a week to study the tax proposals of the federal government.

He said he did not care to make any public statement on the budget until after the meeting of the cabinet.

He said a survey of the provincial civil service was being undertaken to determine if any reduction can be given to civil servants whose living standards are affected by the increased taxes.

Regarding the request that the provinces vote the income and corporation tax fields for the duration of the war, Mr. Hepburn said: "The request is not very clear at the present time, so as this is an important time to make a statement."

Motion Picture Tax Is Surprise To Company Head

TORONTO April 30.—(C.P.)—The 20 per cent tax on motion-picture entertainment, announced by Finance Minister Ilsey in his budget address, was described last night by J. J. Fitzgerald, vice-president of Famous Players Canadian Corporation Ltd., as "a complete surprise that it should be such a high tax."

The industry had expected "some tax" but not one as high as that put into effect, said Mr. Fitzgerald, adding "the new tax, which must be absorbed by the customers, is bound to have an effect on the industry and will undoubtedly develop some reactions to raise. Only time will tell to what extent."

SHE TELLS HIM, "YOU'RE STILL A YOUNG MAN"

Mussolini Built A Mansion For His Girl Friend

His loneliness was a horror to him. His brother, Arnaldo, the editor, was his only friend, and Arnaldo died. He turned to his daughter, Edda, the Countess Ciano, and she, with no interest in anything beyond the frivolities of life, failed him utterly.

He had no companion, no one to whom he could confide.

Politically, the situation two years ago was equally bitter and disappointing.

After 17 years, fascism had run down. It was all very well to talk about "living like lions." Italians were tired. Ethiopia and Spain had been exhausting.

Instead of having trained a people of steel, Mussolini found that the Italians wanted bread, not circus.

Instead of having trained an elite, Mussolini found that his most trusted ministers wanted graft and a letup in the tension.

This came at a moment when Mussolini felt certain that the future of the world would soon be decided.

And then suddenly, without warning, he was stricken. These are the personal and political disappointments I imagine he muller over as he lay in bed.

I think he decided to make an alliance with Hitler in order to revitalize fascism through a union with the younger and more violent Nazi movement.

I think the decision was based on internal politics and ideological considerations, not on any analysis of the international situation.

The dictator put fascism, not Italy, first.

Mussolini thought he could handle Hitler, but once the alliance was made he had he signed in blood a compact as binding as that in which Faust sold his soul to Mephistopheles.

Confident that the British and French would not wantonly attack him, Mussolini thought that he had bought off a German invasion and secured a balance-of-power position for himself.

●Aware Of This, Nazi Agents

Proceeded Shrewdly

Aware of Mussolini's stroke and his resultant fears and apprehensions, Hitler and his agents dealt shrewdly with the Italian.

They flattered him. The two revolutions were the same, they told him. If Hitler won his war this would become "the century of Mussolini."

"They told him such things and the aging dictator, fearful for the future of fascism, relished the sound of them."

Except for his stroke, I think Mussolini's peasant shrewdness would have saved him.

Because he was not very well, Mussolini had to give up public appearances and private conversations. He lost the feel of his own public opinion and he saw almost no advisers or counselors except the Germans.

It is no wonder, therefore, that he was impressed when Hitler told him a few months before the invasion of the Lowlands and France exactly how that offensive would go.

Mussolini had been frightened when Hitler, telling Ciano that the British and French were afraid to fight, invaded Poland over Italy's protest.

But when Hitler's most optimistic prediction proved true, Mussolini's doubts vanished.

Clutching at the coattails of the triumphant Nazis, the Fascists were safe. Mussolini told a friend of mine:

"We must go to war immediately. France will collapse in a matter of days and Britain's capitulation will follow swiftly. If we are to share in the spoils we must strike before Hitler brings the hostilities to an end."

And so on June 10, in one of the least impressive speeches of his long career, Mussolini declared war on Great Britain and France.

●It Was A Vast Blunder—

Italy Wasn't Ready

This act was a criminal blunder. Italy was in no way prepared for war.

Every type of armament and equipment was lacking for the army.

No reserves of fuel had been stored either for the air force or the navy.

No raw materials had been stocked for Italy's war industries.

Worst, the Italian people felt a profound distrust for the Germans, their traditional foes, and distrust neutrality.

The nation was not morally prepared for war—the sternest of all national tests.

The extent of Mussolini's blunder has been proved in Libya and Albania.

It would be proved in Italy as well, except that the Germans have complete control of that country.

●The Fruits Of His Blunder

Are Anger And Guards

Because he put the party first, Mussolini has become the most reviled man in the history of modern Italy.

The guards around the Palazzo Venezia are counted today in hundreds but in thousands.

They stand sentry five, six and seven blocks away from his executive office in the Palazzo Venezia.

Against his security the most vicious threats are uttered by men who served him blindly in the past.

About his private life the most disgusting stories are circulated by people who used to speak of him with tears of loyalty in their eyes.

And there is no doubt that today he rages with impotent fury against a people that didn't want to live like lions.

The only person in Italy who understands him now is a woman half his age.

She tells him, moreover, that he is still a relatively young man.

He has built her an imposing three-story home on one of the hills of Rome.

He has installed in it an escalator—quite as good as any in an American department store—which goes from the ground to the third floor.

In addition to the guards he keeps for her, there is a motorcycle escort which waits in the streets while Mussolini is there.

And one of these motorcycle policemen has just had a brother killed in Albania.

INCOME LEVY IS INCREASED TO HIGH RATE

Added Revenue Expected To Be $75,000,000 In Year

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Major increases in income tax rates to yield an estimated $75,000,000 additional revenue a year, and a new 12-month instalment plan for payment of the levy were announced Tuesday along with sharp national defence tax raises in Finance Minister Mackenzie King's budget speech to the House of Commons.

After July 1 next, said Mr. King, those whose incomes now call for the defence tax payment at the rate of two per cent of their pay cheques will pay five per cent, and those who now pay three per cent will pay seven per cent.

The 12-month income tax payment plan would begin next September, and while there is no change in the filing date on which individuals are to file their income tax returns, he said, it will be March 31, instead of April 15.

Under the new rates a single person earning $1,500 a year and now paying $30 in income tax and national defence tax, in which sharp increases also become effective July 1, will pay $317.50 in the two taxes.

A married person earning $1,500 and now paying $30 will pay $317.50 while a married person with two dependents earning the same amount and now paying $14 will pay $317.50.

Marking a "more significant distinction between earned income and investment income," a new four per cent surtax on investment income of more than $1,500 also was announced.

EXEMPTIONS UNCHANGED

Basic exemptions for the graduated income tax remain at $750 for single persons and $1,500 for married persons and the $400 exemption allowance for each dependent also is maintained.

As announced by Mr. King last February, however, there will be a reduction from 50 per cent to 10 per cent of income in the maximum amount allowed as a deduction for gifts to charitable or patriotic organizations.

"Now that we have again raised the rates, our Canadian income tax system, which the average family must budget for each month," Mr. King said, "As many of us have discovered recently, no longer can we begin to find the tax money in a month or two in the spring. These new income taxes are heavy, without question, and are not beyond our ability to pay."

HEAVY INCREASE

The income tax is one of the heaviest of the provisions will be added to operate for the duration of the war.

Minimum annual income below which no person is liable for the defence tax will be increased from $50 to $100, but the credit allowed for dependents also will be raised from $24 to $30 a year.

Mr. King said he expected the national defence tax increases would bring a $50,000,000 increase in the current fiscal year.

He said the levy was "fairer in distribution" than was the same tax and that what was best preferred a defence tax increase to a sales tax increase.

OTTAWA BUDGET GIVES BRITAIN TRADE OPENING

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Wide concessions to the United Kingdom in extending special treatment in imports under the War Exchange Control Act were announced by Finance Minister Lloyd Tuesday, effective today.

"Certain items, on which the United Kingdom has asked for concessions, viz., cellulose ballroom fixtures and earthenware glass manufactures N.P.P., nickel-plated ware, and needles are to be made free," the minister said.

It was further recommended that British preferential rates be subject to a discount of 25 per cent in the case of woolen and worsted yarns, wools, fabrics, and clothing, as well as boots and shoes.

Debits on fabrics and articles of linen, jute, hemp, and mixed fabrics, olefin and linoleum, carpets, rugs and carpeting and other items in certain customs groups would be made subject to a discount of 50 per cent, the minister said.

No modification of rates on liquors, sugar, tobacco, and silk was suggested.

"The result will be that, aside from the revenue item just mentioned, all imports from the United Kingdom will be free or subject to British preferential duties reduced by 50 or 25 per cent," the minister said.

The discounts proposed are to be in lieu of and not additional to the 10 per cent reduction now applicable for direct shipments.

The sweeping reductions were made to facilitate movement of goods from the United Kingdom, Mr. Lloyd explained. It was not expected imports would increase significantly as the difficulties of shipping were well known, but it was desired to give every facility for such exports as were possible.

NORWAY STILL IS HOSTILE TO NAZI INVADERS

NEW YORK, April 30.—(CP)—The BBC said Tuesday night that the Oslo-Bergen railway in German-occupied Norway "has been out of action since Saturday when a train was derailed" and that sabotage is suspected.

In a broadcast heard here by CBS, the BBC said that there was clear evidence of continued resistance to Nazi rule in Norway.

Fine broke out in a big theatre in Oslo and in a cellulose factory in Drummen yesterday, the BBC said. The minister for ecclesiastical affairs was quoted as saying "members of Quakers (fish column) party are being driven out of religious associations and church services and are being denied Holy Communion."

(BBC quoted the Vatican Radio last Friday as announcing a similar situation between the church and the Nazis in the Netherlands.)

BIBLE REVISION

NEW YORK.—(CP)—On the ground the word "ghost" no longer conveys the meaning intended, scholars revising the New Testament of the Catholic Bible, are substituting the words "Holy Spirit" for "Holy ghost" in connection with the "Sign of the Cross."

Nazis Warn Eire Residents Against Rendering Help

NEW YORK, April 30.—(AP)—The BBC reported last night that German airplanes had dropped leaflets in Eire warning residents against helping exiles and incendiary bombs in Northern Ireland. Referring to fire-fighting aid sent from neutral Eire to Belfast, Northern Ireland, after fires had been set by Nazi raiders, BBC in a broadcast heard by BBC said the German leaflets told Eire residents "if they tried this sort of thing again they might be given some fire of their own to be put out."

Nazis Claim New Greek Government Has Been Formed

BELGRADE, April 30.—(AP)—The Nazi commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland claimed today a new Greek government had been formed and asserted that it was in Berlin as "the actual end of the war in Greece." Presumably the commentary referred to some sort of administrative set up on the Greek mainland by the Germans in cooperation with German forces of occupation. The leaflet Greek government is functioning from Crete.

B. C. PREPARED TO CO-OPERATE WITH DOMINION

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—After hearing the budget address in the House of Commons Tuesday, Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia declared his province is prepared to co-operate with the Dominion government in the "fullest possible extent."

Finance Minister Illey in his address announced a proposal whereby the provinces would waive the field of income and corporation taxes for the duration of the war and the Dominion would offer two alternative forms of compensation.

Premier Pattullo's statement said that "from the beginning of the war our government has given most careful consideration as to how best we can be helpful to the war effort. We have not thought at any time that as a result of war effort our province's treasury should profit, but rather that conditions resulting by reason of war, should be turned back to war effort. We are, therefore, prepared to co-operate with the Dominion government in the fullest possible extent."

Later Mr. Pattullo's secretary said the premier had no statement on whether British Columbia, if it surrenders the income tax, will continue to levy its one per cent sales tax.

"All these details would have to be discussed with the Dominion government before anything further could be said," the secretary said.

NO IMMEDIATE BUDGET VIEWS BY PREMIERS

WINNIPEG, April 30.—(CP)—Two premiers of western Canada—John Bracken of Manitoba and W. J. Patterson of Saskatchewan—Tuesday night declined to comment on the federal government's proposal to take over the provincial field of personal and income tax for the duration of the war.

Premier Bracken of Manitoba said his coalition government would issue a statement after a study of the proposal advanced in Finance Minister Illey's budget speech in the House of Commons Wednesday.

Premier Patterson expected to give Saskatchewan's view today, he said.

Mr. Illey said that to provinces co-operating with the Dominion plan the Dominion would grant an amount equal to their collections from those taxes in the last full year or the net service on their provincial debt less previous obtained from succession duties during that period.

HALIFAX, April 30.—(CP)—Premier A. B. Macphail of Nova Scotia Tuesday night declined immediate comment on the Dominion government's budget, delivered yesterday in the House of Commons. He indicated he would have a statement today.

FREDERICTON, April 30.—(CP)—Premier J. B. McNair of New Brunswick said Tuesday night he had no comment to make on the Finance Minister Illey's budget address yesterday. It was a matter requiring study by the provincial cabinet, he said.

No income tax is imposed by the provincial government in New Brunswick, Mr. Illey asked the U. S. Policy Is Step Toward War Japanese States

TOKYO, April 30.—(AP)—Jen Ichiro, director of the official bureau of information, today described the new Japanese policy toward the United States as "one step from war."

Asked if he considered extension of the naval patrol an act of aggression, Ichiro replied it was in that direction and very dangerous. He said qualified this statement by saying the patrol was not to be considered an automatic act of aggression.

QUEBEC, April 30.—(CP)—Provincial Treasurer J. A. Mathewson said last night the Quebec government would study the new federal budget brought down by Finance Minister Illey Tuesday.

In the meantime, he said, there would be no comment.

U.S. WARSHIPS, PLANES AIDING OCEAN BATTLE

Assertion Is Made After F.D.R. Says Ships Can Enter Combat Zone

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(AP)—Warships of the United States navy, patrol bombers, and all other aircraft carriers, aircraft, and other naval vessels, are already playing a vital role in patrolling ocean stretches which figure in Britain's "Battle of the Atlantic."

This assertion was made after President Roosevelt's statement that United States naval vessels were not prohibited from entering combat zones by any executive order, and that they would operate anywhere deemed necessary for western hemisphere defense.

Mr. Roosevelt, in telling this to the press conference yesterday said that it did not mean that navy units are going into the European combat zone or that they would go in.

Nevertheless, apparently informed sources said it would be no surprise to them if the navy's patrol aircraft had been covering at least portions of area included in Germany's recent extension of her western-bloc blockade zone.

They mentioned specifically that part of the counter-blockade zone which stretches from Iceland along the coast waters of Greenland, where the United States has acquired defense base privileges. This has been a danger area for British shipping.

The potential effectiveness of the counter-blockade zone, and the navy's role in it, was the subject of the speech, said the sources, that it may make the German position more difficult.

Mr. Roosevelt, in discussing the naval activities, reported last week and again that there was no military limit for its activities.

Evidence of Axis interest in the wide patrol system was not shown in forthcoming. Several hours after Mr. Roosevelt had spoken, K. H. Kibbi, director of the official board of information at the state department, said that the Atlantic patrols are "not one step from war."

He said in reply to a question that "extension of the patrols was in the direction of an act of aggression," and were dangerous.

Today's War Moves

line seemed not yet ripe for a clash. Each side believed that the other, however, has a cumulative influence which cannot help but be showing in the Axis.

Germany must maintain her hold on the Balkans to retain the source of essential supplies no less than because of military prestige. Italy, too, is impelled to try to threaten or cable Turkey, in order to round out the Axis strategy in southwestern Europe.

Stalin is unable to tolerate this extension of German influence on Russia's southern border as a permanent, without seriously weakening the Axis position both in Europe and Asia Minor. So the two powers differ at each other and animosity increases.

Russia's newly-imposed check on the movements of war supplies destined for foreign purchasers seems to be a move to increase her own reserves and to prevent possible enemies from strengthening themselves at her expense. If the decree applies to shipments of Russian material to China, it would have great significance as a signal of Germany's recent extension of her western-bloc blockade zone.

Interpreting War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Associated Press Staff Writer

ANGLO-GREEK success in a holding over the Greek island of Crete, which the Nazis say is their next "mopping-up" objective in the Mediterranean, must turn upon the extent to which the Allies have managed to fortify and garrison it since Britain took it over at the outset of the Greek-Italian war.

Adequately manned and gunned, Crete could offer formidable resistance to any invader. Presently substantial forces of Greek and British troops are rallying there following evacuation of the Greek mainland.

Their chances of repelling invasion attempts, even of withdrawing Nazi-Panzer bombing attacks, below the 70 miles or so of sea between the island and the nearest point on the Peloponnese would seem reasonably good.

Yet much may depend upon the fighting equipment that British and Greek forces falling back into Crete for a last stand managed to carry with them under constant Nazi air attack.

British advance guards details of the evacuations. If the escape from Greece is being made on the same terms as the withdrawal from Dunkerque, the troops being ferried to Crete do not constitute an army.

At Dunkerque, the British and French troops left behind them everything they could not carry away in their hands. A third of a million men were put out of action until they could be reorganized and re-equipped.

It is an important to British strength in the eastern Mediterranean, however, that its preparation for defense must have been a first consideration. Not even the exigencies of the Balkan campaign could have induced the London authorities or the British middle east command to overlook the strategic value of Crete. There have been eye-witness reports of British efforts to turn the island into an eastern equivalent of Gibraltar.

A Nazi attempt to take Crete by invasion might be staged as a dress rehearsal for a similar attack on the United Kingdom. Yet the risk of a repeat would be minimal. It seems more likely that for the present Nazi thrusts in the direction of Crete may be designed to screen new blows elsewhere, possibly in the British straits to reinforce the stalled axis drive on the Libyan-Egyptian border.

RED PAPER SAYS GERMAN TROOPS REACH FINLAND

MOSCOW, April 28.—(AP)—Pravda, Communist party organ, reported today that four German transporters had landed about 12,000 German troops equipped with tanks and artillery at the port of Turku (Abo) in southwestern Finland April 26.

The troops proceeded northward to Tampere, April 28, Pravda declared in a dispatch from Tallin, Estonia.

The report of the German troop arrivals was contained in the following dispatch printed at the top of Pravda's foreign news page with out comment:

"According to reliable reports, April 26 there arrived at the Finnish port of Abo four German transport ships from which about 12,000 German troops landed with arms, tanks, artillery, etc. On April 28 the troops began to move to Tampere."

German news asserted the Nazi troop arrival was merely part of the regular movement of troops through Finland to Norway which has been going on for some time under agreement with the Finnish government.

It was the 2nd time, however, that notice of such movements had appeared in the Soviet press.

Concessions Given U.K. Are Termed As Gracious Gift

OTTAWA, April 28.—(CP)—A gracious gift which will encourage Britain was how A. M. Wazman, senior British trade commissioner in Canada, described concessions in the United Kingdom in Finance Minister Lloyd's budget Tuesday.

The concessions to facilitate entry of British goods were most numerous, he said.

Italians Seize Mexican Tankers In Retaliation

MEXICO CITY, April 28.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Enriquez Padilla announced Tuesday night Italy has seized three 10,000-ton tankers built in Genoa for Mexico in retaliation for Mexico's exportation of 10 Italian merchant ships harbored at Tampico and Vera Cruz.

The Italian minister, Count Alcide De Gasperi, notified the foreign office of Italy's action when he was present against the seizure of the Avila Camacho's exportation decree.

The tankers in Genoa were built by Italy for Mexico in return for $2,500,000 in petroleum. The oil was delivered to Italy but the war prevented delivery of the vessels to Mexico.

He said Mr. Wazman. Some requests had been made by the United Kingdom, but the concessions have gone beyond anything he had thought of asking," he said.

45,000 MEN ARE REMOVED FROM GREECE

Many of the men in question are being removed from the front lines, and are being sent to the rear areas. The removal of these men is being carried out in a systematic manner, and is being completed by the end of the month.

BRITISH URGED TO LEAVE

The 10,000 countries were included in the British estimate of 15,000 men who were to be removed from the front lines. The British foreign office had issued a statement to the effect that the removal of these men was being carried out in a systematic manner, and was being completed by the end of the month.

In Berlin, the Nazi high command reported that 2,000 British troops had been captured in southern Greece, and that the escape of the remainder of the British forces had been cut off by the seizure of southern harbors.

The Greek government, while expressing its confidence in the British forces, has also expressed its confidence in the British forces, and has also expressed its confidence in the British forces.

Winston Churchill's Broadcast Favorably Received Throughout U.S.—Speech Meets All Requirements

LONDON, April 30.—(C.P.)—All reports from the United States received in London today brought heartening news that Winston Churchill's back-to-the-wall broadcast Sunday night had been favorably received throughout the country.

With the subsequent announcement that President Roosevelt would broadcast in the week on Wednesday night, the feeling again ground that this favorable reaction might prove to be the signal for something really momentous in the way of further American action.

Churchill's speech was described as a "back-to-the-wall" broadcast, and was received with great interest in the United States. The speech was described as a "back-to-the-wall" broadcast, and was received with great interest in the United States.

PORKY OLIVER SHOOTING HOT GOLF

PORT DIX, N.J., April 30.—(UPI)—Crosby Rd. (Porky) Oliver, who is an army hero today, less than two months after he was drafted.

He turned up the Lakeside N.J. golf course Tuesday, ending a new course record of 68 against the top 72 to carry home his team, the "Vanguards" (Oliver and Charles "Drifter" Whitehead).

The fact that all four of them were injured and lost their way in the woods this afternoon, but were eliminated as "prospective" men, detracted nothing from Crosby and Oliver's performance.

The match, which was the result of a challenge issued by the Lakeside naval station, which thought it had a couple of good players at the time of Port Dix. The soldiers, according to the challenge without even realizing it, in their minds were killed by the war.

When naval ships returned to Lakeside, the identities of the men in the army were quickly learned.

Oliver and Whitehead, New Jersey aviation cadets, were recruited as prospective players.

Compared to Crosby's 68, Whitehead, 74, and Oliver, 74, they were all 68.

NEW MUTUEL TAX NOT EXPECTED TO HURT RACING

TORONTO, April 30.—(UPI)—Three prominent racing officials combined Tuesday night in an expression of opinion that the federal tax of five per cent on wagering, though it may hurt some horse owners, will not hurt racing.

W. A. Hewitt, president of the Ontario racing association, under which all Ontario tracks operate, said: "I don't think wagering will suffer at all."

Bulmer Wright, secretary of the Ontario racing association, which operates the Windsor track, said: "I don't think betting will suffer from the new tax."

Passengers On North Flight Chirpy Crowd

Passengers in Yukon Southern plane were chirpy as they took off from the Edmonton airport, Wednesday for Fort St. John, B.C.

Price passengers of the flight, they were nearly 200 baby chicks, just out of the hatch and consigned by Provincial Hatcheries to Red Power, farmer and operator of the airway stop place.

The chicks must be shipped as soon as they are hatched and fed 24 hours after the start of their destination.

Passengers on the plane, piloted by Capt. Ted Field and Capt. Alex Dando, were J. Blacklock to Grande Prairie, Miss. Huff to Dawson Creek, Red Dutton and Mr. Jennings to Grande Prairie.

Places No Responsibility For Fatal Traffic Accident

Verdict of death from extensive head injuries, without seeing responsibility for the accident, was returned by a coroner's jury Tuesday investigating the traffic death of W. S. Jones, 35, of 931-100 Avenue, who died on Sunday, April 29 in a city hospital.

Inquest, held under the direction of Chief Coroner Dr. E. A. Brinkley at the city police station, heard several witnesses, including W. S. Jones, 34, son of deceased, who was operating the motorcycle when it struck in auto operated by J. Melnyk, 1040-10 Street, at the intersection of 104th Avenue and 80 Street.

The young Jones hobbled to the witness stand on crutches. He was injured in the right leg in the same accident.

Government Members Declare Alberta Must Push War Help

Reaction among members of the Alberta government to the House budget was that every effort would be made to make it possible to co-operate with the Dominion government to prosecute an all-out effort.

In the absence of Premier W. A. R. Mackenzie-King, it was pointed out by Acting Premier, Ernest Manning.

Mr. Nelson E. Lora, provincial treasurer, positively said that some reaction was to be expected from the introduction of such a large and far-reaching budget.

ALL-OUT EFFORT

This is an all-out war effort and we are going to make it, said the Premier, taking every care of our own people, said one ally.

In general the news of the budget was received by the public as a grim reminder of the extent and seriousness of the struggle in which the British Empire is involved.

All over there was a realization of the heavy burden that they were expected to carry. It was to be a war and a war it will be, the Premier said.

SALVAGE DRIVE HERE WILL BE RUN BY 'ARMY'

Will Administer Campaign in Co-Operation With Committee

The Salvation Army will administer the Edmonton salvage campaign, being responsible to the main salvage committee appointed by city council. It was decided at a meeting of the committee held Tuesday in the city hall.

Experienced in collection of discarded goods and in making use of them, the "Army" will have charge of receiving, sorting and disposing of salvage collected. It will have the co-operation of private and public organizations of the main committee.

At a private talk at the hall and city hall, the committee members said that they were confident that the campaign would be successful.

Both the Salvation Army and the Canadian Red Cross offered assistance in operating the campaign. Mr. Muir, secretary for northern Alberta, said that the committee would be at the meeting and outlined the plan of the campaign.

Wednesday Last Date To File Tax Returns

Wednesday (today) is the last day for filing of Dominion income tax returns. Payment of the full tax must accompany returns to avoid a five per cent penalty, unless taxpayers entered on the new budget plan in January.

Returns mailed and postmarked on this date will be accepted as received in time.

Edmonton Looks At The Budget

Faced with the most stringent budget in the history of Canada, citizens Wednesday with one voice agreed that while it will mean larger sacrifices by those on the home front, the added burden will have to be met if the war is to be won. Following is a cross-section of opinion on the new budget.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Finance Minister J. L. Halsey presented the latest budget, yesterday, and the question was asked: what is the government's plan to cope with the war? The answer was: to do so by the use of the budget.

THE ANSWERS

EDITH CRICKBANK, stenographer: No, I don't think it will make much difference. After all, it is just a matter of a few cents more and people interested in seeing a certain picture are not likely to make much difference to the extra tax.

Edmonton Looks At The Budget

Faced with the most stringent budget in the history of Canada, citizens Wednesday with one voice agreed that while it will mean larger sacrifices by those on the home front, the added burden will have to be met if the war is to be won. Following is a cross-section of opinion on the new budget.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Finance Minister J. L. Halsey presented the latest budget, yesterday, and the question was asked: what is the government's plan to cope with the war? The answer was: to do so by the use of the budget.

THE ANSWERS

EDITH CRICKBANK, stenographer: No, I don't think it will make much difference. After all, it is just a matter of a few cents more and people interested in seeing a certain picture are not likely to make much difference to the extra tax.

Edmonton Bulletin

Drive a new Nash just fifteen minutes—and you, too, will be telling stories like these!

A. B. K., a salesman, writes: "I could hardly believe it when I discovered the first 100 miles cost $1.70 in new Nash. That averages about 30 miles per gallon!"

"Bestmost Car in Its Class"

F. M. C. Hildner writes: "I carefully looked at all imported cars and chose Nash for more room and luxury—economy. Roads road better than any I ever owned."

A. S. F., Vancouver, writes: "Confession, this Nash is a beauty—ride and takes the mountain as easy as you were on straight road."

A. S. F., Vancouver, writes: "Confession, this Nash is a beauty—ride and takes the mountain as easy as you were on straight road."

A. S. F., Vancouver, writes: "Confession, this Nash is a beauty—ride and takes the mountain as easy as you were on straight road."

ONE FOR THE MONEY

By Louise Holmes

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO
JULIE waited for the district attorney's next word. Her mind seemed to be in a daze. She had been waiting for the man with the large ears, his high forehead reflected the light from the window. His lips had a humorous twist.

"He said, 'Johnny Towne did not describe you, very well, Miss St. John.'"

"I think he wanted to spare me the embarrassment of appearing in court," she explained humbly. "He kept watching her appreciatively. 'Very lovely,' he agreed, tapping the desk blotter with his finger. 'And you have come to me because you are willing to go on the stand!'"

TELLS TRUTH
"Yes," she said. It barely even while the enormity of the thing she was doing appeared before her. "I want you to know that Johnny—Mr. Towne—told the truth. I can show you other hand-drawn pictures of the one found on the sidewalk to prove my statements."

"Her fine voice took a little. 'The man was trying to steal my purse. Mr. Towne did an excellent job of drawing him. He knocked him down. He had no intention of killing him. Mr. District Attorney,' Julie was terribly in earnest."

"I see," he murmured. "I am sorry. 'Evidently you don't read the papers, Miss St. John.'"

"Well, I haven't lately." "Then it might interest you to know that Johnny Towne was only mentioned on the Monday afternoon following the shooting. The story appeared in every paper."

STARES AT ATTORNEY
Julie caught at the desk. She stared steadily at the district attorney. "This unidentified man, whom he alleged had said to me, was an escaped convict," he continued calmly. "If my men and I had not been alerted, we would have been in a very bad fix."

"Julie had almost seemed better. Her lower lip quivered. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"Having seen that even Johnny, for almost two weeks, having spent sleepless nights and restless days, having suffered the unbearable pangs of a guilty conscience, it was difficult, I must say, to learn that his argument had been so faulty."

"I understand it must seem to you both unnecessary to establish Johnny's innocence almost from the beginning. Obviously, it was."

"Julie had tried to tell her when she had stepped her in a high-handed manner."

"Johnny—how angry get through."

Animal Crackers
"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry," she said. "I am sorry, I am sorry, I am sorry."
